The Road Situation

The people of Clay City and Estill county were sadly disappointed Saturday when the Powell Fiscal Court went over to the Estill county line again to investigate the new road. Estill has built to our line and then decided after leaving the scene not to aid the citizens of this county in building the road on to Clay City.

Judge Daniel and Squire Sewell were for the building of the road or some donation to the people to aid them. The other Magistrates said they were for the road but their people were opposed to it and that they would pass it up on this account. The people have taken up the task of building this road however large a job it may be. They need the help of the public and will receive subscription in any sum from one dollar to twenty-five dollars. The Clay City Times will receive your subscription and report the same.

Estill county wants to gain an outlet to the world through Powell. They want to go by the way of Clay City. Will Clay City people invite them here by a liberal donation to the road fund? See the editor and sign up and pay up. Work on the project began Wednesday and must not fail for the want of support. One thousand dollars must be available at once to push the work to the first bridge. The job from there to Clay City is very light.

No ill feeling is held against the Magistrates for voting against this road by Clay City people, for we well do know that these men are only obeying the wishes of their constituents.

Send the Times a donation today.

Effects of Prosperity

The year 1919 is conceded by all to be the most prosperous of any in modern times. The year when millions were made in Kentucky in the oil game, numbers of the oil magnates claiming to have made more than a million each, and scores of them claiming to have made hundreds of thousands of dollars.

But do the statistics of income tax for the year verify these claims? They do not.

But two persons or firms admit having made $150,000, and but one owns up to having made $100,000. None made one-half million or more.

The question is: Do people lie about making so much money or do they lie about in when they file their income tax returns?

The editor of the Times does not know for he is not affected.

Rude Boys Shoot at Meeting

Some young men from up the country acted very ugly Sunday while at the tent meeting on Hardwick's creek. They fired several shots and then made way in machine. Two of them were later arrested in Clay City while one evaded the officers. Moonshine, moonshine.

"Old Stone Lucky Man"

J. R. Stone has purchased the Williamson property of six rooms and six lots in the western portion of town for $1,000.00.

Why Germany Prospered

Germany spends one billion yearly on paying her indemnity to the Allies. To meet this she is persevering in home work and aggressive in getting foreign trade. The Allies will allow her to spend nothing on armies and navy. She has none.

The Allies and the United States spend this much each on their respective armies and navies. The armies take millions from the work shops and puts into the fight shop to watch Germany enjoy the prosperity the Allies have forced upon her by diverting the waste of money and labor from war preparations to prosperity preparations.

Germany, they have disarmed; themselves they cannot disarm.

Child's Skull Crushed

While returning from Sunday morning services at Powell's Valley church, in a wagon with his family, June Walters, Jr., was thrown from the wagon when a chair he was sitting in turned over. In his arms he was holding his baby. The child fell so that a wagon wheel passed directly over its skull causing instant death. The grief stricken parents have the sympathy of many friends.

How The Shale is Handled

When the shale gets hot, a gray vapor passes off from the retorts to the condensers, where the gases are condensed into liquids. The Carbon and Hydrogen combining to form Crude Oil and the Nitrogen with the Hydrogen to form Ammonia. Some of the vapors do not condense, and these form the gases which have been mentioned as furnishing the fuel. The shale gives off 1,167 cubic feet of gas to each ton treated and this equals in heating value 180 pounds of the best bituminous coal. Only one-third of this heat is needed for the retorting operation, so the rest is left for power and other purposes.

The liquids are taken from the condenser—the Crude Oil itself and a considerable amount of Water, which contains the Ammonia. These liquids are led to settling tanks where the Oil is drawn off to go to storage tanks or tank cars for the refinery and the water is led to the Ammonia stills. In these stills steam is passed through this water and as the Ammonia Gas is thus driven off it is carried through the Sulphuric Acid tanks, where in combination with the Acid it forms crystals which when dried out become the Ammonium Sulphate of the Fertilizer Industry. As the hot spent shale goes out at the bottom of the retorts through the funnels into the water seal, the water there is kept boiling and in this boiling water the Potash from the shale is dissolved, while the shale goes off to the dump as waste.

The whole operation is one of extreme simplicity and it is almost entirely mechanical except for the blasting down of the shale and the careful watching of the retorting temperatures.

As has been previously stated, there are many types of retorts especially for use on the Western shales. But the Scott Fuller retort now being constructed across the river, has been adopted for this particular shale as the very best possible and most efficient type. It uses the proven Scotch heat principles, while at the same time taking advantage of all the American ingenuity along mechanical lines. This retort has a 90% Thermal Efficiency and will retort three times the shale that the Scotch retorts of the same size do and do it in one third of the time.

The non-combustible gases are carried through apparatus which extracts two gallons of Casing Head Gasoline per thousand feet, or about Eight Gallons to the ton. This Gasoline together with the Oil, the Potash and the Ammonium Sulphate form the basic commercial crudes from which tremendous profits can be made. The shale or raw material costs practically nothing and is there in unlimited quantities and as the operating cost is very low and the method of handling very sure, it is easy to see how extremely safe and lucrative the industry is.

Aside from these basic crudes,

HOORAY! THE RED WAGONS ARE COMING.

Hugo Bros., Great Consolidated Shows Will Exhibit in Clay City, Thursday, September 15th.

This announcement is hailed with delight by the juvenile element, while some of the "older boys" are already looking about for their stray nephews and nieces. They are saying, they will probably have to go and carry the children and see the animals. But deep down in their hearts they know they would not miss the big show if there were not a small boy within a thousand miles of Clay City on show day.

Many new and novel features will be seen in this year's program of the Great Hugo Bros. Show. Foremost among these will be the Flying Jordans, daring and intrepid aerialists; the Silvertone Trio, dancers on a lofty double wire; the Alpine sisters, dainty and marvelous equilibrists; the peerless Potters, gymnasts; the Nelson family acrobats and two-score educated Shetland ponies, monkeys and dogs. The clown congress is a large one and is headed by Arthur Berry, Andy Rice, Sam Lewis and Valdo. In the menagerie will be seen Tom Tom the largest elephant in captivity. The big show travels aboard its own special train of railroad cars.

There will be two performances, at 2 and 8 p. m., the doors opening an hour earlier to permit a concert of popular and operatic music by Prof. Fred Melvin and his military band. A series of free exhibitions will be given on the show grounds at 1 and 7 p. m., in addition to a band concert on the down town streets at noon. The town and surrounding country is heavily billed for the appearance of the big show, and local merchants anticipate the largest crowd in town on show day, in years.

The shale oil contains many very valuable By-Products. The writer recently saw extracted from it Ichthyol, Lysol, Many Dyes, Five grades of Lubricating Oil, Paraffine and other products too numerous to mention. These products brought the value of One Ton of Shale refined out to these products to something over Two Hundred dollars but with Devon Oil Shale Products Company figuring a net profit of not more than Six Dollars a Ton and handling 1500 tons a day in the full sized finished plant, it is easy to see where the commercial future of Clay City lies.

The Red River Shale Oil Company has recently acquired an extensive tract of shale land just East of town and more will come later. Meanwhile it is up to us as loyal citizens to acquaint ourselves with the situation and all pull together for the ultimate success of the Shale Companies.

Dr. S. F. Hamilton, Dentist
Will be at Bowen all the week of Sept. 5 and at Clay City all of the week of Sept. 12.

VAUGHN'S MILL.

It is said by folks who are supposed to know that our county is the best off in Sunday Schools, counting the number of schools based on the population. Other counties of the state must be in a bad condition when it comes to the question of Sabbath school, as we can readily see the need of more work along these lines that should be carried on in our home county. Powell county has 33 public school districts and out of these there are only 16 which are represented by a Christian body who mean to carry the Word of God to children and others through the channels of Sunday Schools. Which had you rather give up if you had to give up either preaching services or Sunday School services? I would say a thousand times it would be better to give up preaching than Sunday School as the word of God says "Neglect not the assembling of yourselves together on the first day of the week." Then the thought comes, how is a church body going to assemble when there is preaching only once a month and in some communities not that often. The house of God and communication with Him can be carried on without a pastor through a good live Sunday School. The world, it seems to this scribe, has gone after dollars and cents and the majority of men and women have no time for Jesus. Most people if they knew there would be some kind of business carried on at the church, such as buying, selling etc., for gain and there would be a chance for them no doubt they would be on hand to receive their part, but take it on the other hand, religion cannot be bought or sold, consequently the majority cares nothing about it. Of course, if the Sunday School Superintendent and teachers go there just merely to discuss literature and the current events of the day then they had better be at home or some where else. The idea is to meet in the same accord as the Apostles of old rallying around the standard, who is Jesus Christ, and instill in the hearts and minds of the little ones Christ and Him crucified. Baseball and motor cars are clipping Sunday Schools everywhere and their congregations are drifting by degrees away from the Master and Savior. Folks, don't go too far away but turn, come back, lend a helping hand to those who need your assistance from a spiritual standpoint of view. "Faith without works is dead." Can you work a little?

Pains Were Terrific

Read how Mrs. Albert Gregory, of R. F. D. No. 1, Bluford, Ill., got rid of her ills. "During . . . I was awfully weak . . . My pains were terrific. I thought I would die. The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach . . . I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried . . . One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try.

"I took it faithfully and the results were immediate," adds Mrs. Gregory. "I continued to get better, all my ills left me, and I went through . . . with no further trouble. My baby was fat and strong, and myself—thank God—am once more Hale and hearty, can walk miles, do my work, though 44 years old; feel like a new person. All I owe to Cardui." For many years Cardui has been found helpful in building up the system when run down by disorders peculiar to women.

The South Fork base ball nine are still practicing and in good spirits. They think they will be able to play most any team in the country in a few weeks.

Family Always Used It

Miss Hedwig Kowalski, 423 A. St., South Morehead, Minn., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar helped me fine. It is the best medicine for a cough, and our family has always used it." It is a household standby for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial coughs and tickling throat.—Sherman Robbins and Sons local agents.
